

Systematic & Applied Acarology Society
Membership Application

Systematic and Applied Acarology Society (SAAS) aims at promoting the development of acarology and fostering exchange of information and cooperation among all acarologists in different parts of the world. Anyone interested in the study of mites and ticks is welcome to join SAAS.

Basic memberships are free for everyone. Basic members can publish free of page charge in the journal Systematic and Applied Acarology, will be listed in our online directory of members, and can vote for and/or be elected as officers of the society (next election in 2008). In addition, basic members enjoy 25% discount for page charge in the rapid journal Systematic and Applied Acarology Special Publications and discounts in SAAS publications.

Basic members become sustaining members when they contribute a certain amount to the society. Sustaining individual members who contribute US$45 each year will have a free subscription to Systematic & Applied Acarology and have access to online files of the newsletter Acarology Bulletin. Sustaining institutional members who contribute US$88 each year will have a free subscription to Systematic & Applied Acarology.
